Welcome to Luminous Night Festival presented by Choral Encounters.

Choral Encounters is a partnership of the choral voices of the academy, the church and the community in a combined celebration of a living composer whose contributions to today’s choral repertoire offer inspiration and hope to the world. This partnership of Yorkminster Park Baptist Church, the choral department of the University of Toronto, and the Orpheus Choir was birthed in 2012 and led to SING! - A Community Songfest with Alice Parker in 2013 and Shining Night Festival with Morten Lauridsen in 2014. It is a joy to welcome Ola Gjeilo as our special guest composer to Luminous Night Festival.

Ola Gjeilo was born in Norway in 1978, and moved to the United States in 2001 to begin his composition studies at the Juilliard School in New York City. He is currently composer-in-residence with Voces8 and DCINY.

Ola’s albums include Ola Gjeilo on the Decca Classics label, a portrait of his choral and piano works featuring Tenebrae and Voces8. His debut recording as a composer and pianist, the lyrical crossover album Stone Rose, was followed by its 2012 sequel Piano Improvisations, both on the 2L label. Phoenix Chorale’s best-selling Northern Lights collection of Ola’s choral music on Chandos was named iTunes Best Classical Vocal Album of 2012. All four recordings are available on iTunes, Amazon and Google Play.

A full-time concert music composer based in New York City, Gjeilo (pronounced Yay-lo) is also very interested in film, and his music often draws inspiration from movies and cinematic music.

Ola’s choral works are published by Walton Music, wind band works by Boosey & Hawkes, and piano pieces by Edition Peters.

It is a great privilege to welcome Ola Gjeilo to Toronto and to Yorkminster Park. He has been in the city since Tuesday working with each of the choirs and conductors. He will be accompanying the choir of Yorkminster Park at the 11 a.m. service tomorrow. All are welcome.

The Rev. Dr. J.Peter Holmes, Minister of the Congregation
Yorkminster Park Baptist Church
Across the Vast, Eternal Sky

When Ola first approached me about a text for this piece we discussed several premises, including beginning with the last line of a previous collaboration, Tundra. The line “Across the vast, eternal sky,” was the starting point of a discussion which eventually came around to the idea of a phoenix, a twist on the theme of rebirth (and the subject of other collaborations with Ola). The legend of the firebird offered creative opportunities to explore the themes of spiritual growth and renewal.

It is interesting how a piece of music takes shape, especially one which is the product of dynamic collaboration. Ola shared with me some early musical material with which he was already experimenting, and I began to write a lyric to match what he had given me. The current opening words and subsequent reprise were originally the bridge section of a slightly larger work of five different stanzas to match three distinct melodic themes. Later, the musical material containing the first two stanzas were cut from the final version – this shaping and reshaping of a work is an exciting and vital part of the collaborative process. Perhaps, like the phoenix, that lost material will be reborn as part of another work.

- Charles Anthony Silvestri

Sunlight shines on my face;
This is my grace, to be Restored, born again,
In flame!

When I was young I flew in the velvet night;
Shining by day, a firebird bathed in light!
Grey now my feathers, which once were red and gold;
My destiny to soar up to the sunlight!

Do not despair that I am gone away;
I will appear again
When the sunset paints
Flames across the vast eternal sky!
The Lake Isle

This refreshing work from Ola Gjeilo employs a folk-like sound to capture Yeats’ wonderfully descriptive words about the Lake Isle of Innisfree. The movement in the piano, the strumming of the guitar, and the richness of the strings work together with the voices to create the imagery of a long and pleasant journey.

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.

I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart’s core.

Northern Lights

Looking out from an attic window one Christmas close to Oslo, over a wintry lake under the stars, I was thinking about how this ‘terrible’ beauty is so profoundly reflected in the northern lights, or aurora borealis, which, having grown up in the southern part of the country, I have only seen once or twice in my life. It is one of the most beautiful natural phenomena I’ve ever witnessed, and has such a powerful, electric quality that must have been both mesmerizing and terrifying to people in the past, when no one knew what it was and when much superstition was attached to these experiences.

- Ola Gjeilo

Pulchra es amica mea,
suavis et decora sicut Jerusalem,
terribilis ut castrorum acies ordinata.
Averte oculos tuos a me quia ipsi me avolare fecerunt.

Thou art beautiful, O my love,
sweet and comely as Jerusalem,
terrible as an army set in array.
Turn away thy eyes from me,
for they have made me flee away.
Seasons

Seasons is my first piece for children’s choir (although it’s suitable for SSA groups of any level), with lyrics written by frequent collaborator Charles Anthony Silvestri. I was searching for a text in four stanzas that was timeless and could be performed any time of year, so a poem about the unfordgment and yearning of each of the four seasons felt like the perfect match. Tony then wrote his usual beautiful, evocative words, which ended up forming the basis and inspiration for this piece.

Seasons was commissioned by Manhattan Concert Productions for their 2014 National Children’s Festival Chorus events at Carnegie Hall, conducted by Henry Leck and Emily Ellsworth.

- Ola Gjeilo

Bright the sun in bluest shining;
Summer spreads in valleys greenly.
Lovers sing their new-found pining;
Time itself slows down to greet me.

Autumn air comes crisp and blowing
Leaves from green to golden turning;
Hearts all full and eyes all glowing
Gather round the hearth-fire burning

Night grows longer, darkness deeper;
Cold winds howl when comes the Winter;
White of snow by moonlight tempered,
Bearing hope for Spring to enter.

Flowers bloom with showers falling,
All the world reveals its yearning;
Nature sings – I hear her calling;
Round and round the seasons turning.
The lyrics for Tundra were written by Charles Anthony Silvestri, specifically for this work. I asked him to write a text based on the title, and some photos of a part of my native Norway that is very dear to me; the Hardangervidda mountain plateau. It’s pretty close to where my father grew up, a ski resort town called Geilo in the mountains between Oslo and Bergen.

This area is quite barren, and intensely beautiful. It is easy to feel that you are treading on sacred land, which Tony so wonderfully expresses in his text.

Tundra (2010) was commissioned by and dedicated to the ACDA Women's R&S Comissioning Consortium/Debra Spurgeon, National Chair.

- Ola Gjeilo

Wide, worn and weathered,
Sacred expanse
Of green and white and granite grey;
Snowy patches strewn,
Anchored to the craggy earth,
Unmoving;
While clouds dance
Across the vast, eternal sky.

Serenity: O Magnum Mysterium

With Serenity, I wanted to write a cappella music that has a symphonic, abundant feel. This is the case with quite a few of my more recent choral works, such as Dark Night of the Soul, Agnus Dei: Phoenix and The Spheres. I love and often long for a big, lush sound that can give a sense of space and evocativeness, but still be intimate, somehow.

O magnum mysterium,  O great mystery,
et admirable sacramentum,  and wonderful sacrament, ut animalia viderent Dominum natum,  that animals should see the new-born Lord, jacentem in praesepio!  lying in a manger!
Beata Virgo, cujus viscera  Blessed is the Virgin whose womb meruerunt portare  was worthy to bear Dominum Christum.  Christ the Lord.
Alleluia.  Alleluia!
Ubi Caritas II

Ubi Caritas II is a closely related sequel to my Ubi Caritas published in 2007. Re-imagining some of the same material, such as the main theme from the first piece, Ubi Caritas II is in one sense a more sunny version of its prequel.

While Ubi Caritas II functions as an independent work, it’s also intended to be used in combination with the other piece, for example as prelude/postlude ‘bookends’, perhaps yielding a sense of unity and conclusion to the concert or recording. In those cases, I’d usually recommend ending with Ubi Caritas II.

Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est.
Simul quoque cum beatis videamus,
Glorianter vultum tuum, Christe Deus:
Gaudium quod est immensum, atque probum,
Saecula per infinita saeculorum. Amen.

Where charity and love are, God is there.
And may we with the saints also,
See Thy face in glory, O Christ our God:
The joy that is immense and good,
Unto the ages through infinite ages. Amen.

Ubi Caritas III

Sacred Heart (Ubi Caritas III) is a setting of the 2nd stanza from the three-stanza Ubi Caritas text. I’d already set the first in 1999 (Ubi Caritas) and the third one in 2012 (Ubi Caritas II: Through Infinite Ages).

While Ubi Caritas II partly played around with some of the material from my first Ubi Caritas, Sacred Heart (Ubi Caritas III) is completely independent from the other two, content-wise, and also deploys a string quartet. Ubi Caritas and Ubi Caritas II were written for a cappella choir.

With all three works now published by Walton Music, the set is complete. And while each one of them are independent works, they were also written with the potential in mind of being performed in succession, or spread across a concert program/recording.
Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est.
Simul ergo cum in unum congregamur:
Ne nos mente dividamur, caveamus.
Cessent iurgia maligna, cessent lites.
Et in medio nostri sit Christus Deus.

Where charity and love are, God is there.
As we are gathered into one body,
Beware, lest we be divided in mind.
Let evil impulses stop, let controversy cease,
And may Christ our God be in our midst.

Sunrise Mass

The Spheres (Kyrie)
Sunrise (Gloria)
The City (Credo)
Identify (Sanctus) & The Ground (Benedictus/Agnus Dei)

Sunrise Mass was commissioned in 2007 and premiered in Oslo in November 2008. Gjeilo considers himself a ‘symphonic’ composer, aiming as he does for a lush, orchestral sound, and approaches his craft from a spiritual perspective, intending to share universal and humanistic experiences in the realm of his music.

One need look no further than the names of each individual movement of Sunrise Mass for an illustration of how spirituality plays a role in his art. While the text comes from the Ordinary of the Mass, Gjeilo gives each movement a sub-title rooted in our world: The Spheres (Kyrie), Sunrise (Gloria), The City (Credo), Identity (Sanctus) and The Ground (Benedictus/Agnus Dei). While respectful of the Latin text, Gjeilo's overall vision lies within these titles and only loosely relates to the meaning of the Latin. In so doing, he reveals a structure outside of the text; a metaphysical journey from the Heavens to Earth.

Gjeilo writes of his opening movement The Spheres: “I wanted the musical evolution of the Mass to go from the most transparent and spacey to something completely earthy and grounded, from heaven to earth, so to speak. So in The Spheres, I used a kind of overlapping fade-in fade-out effect to give a sense of floating in space, in darkness and relative silence, surrounded by stars and planets light-years away.” He achieves this striking effect in several ways: by dividing... the choir into as many as sixteen separate vocal parts and by breaking up the very words into unconnected syllables that drift from one voice to another, softly overlapping in dissonance before resolving into new chords like “church bells beyond the stars heard.”

The second movement, Sunrise, opens orchestrally with a long solo for the first violins over luscious, mostly major choral sonorities, warm and reassuring, like a hazy sun rising ever so slowly over an early-morning horizon. The sopranos take up the violin melody, with the Gloria text. Gjeilo has said he imagines this line as angels singing a subtle, dream-like incantation. As if from deep within the earth, the lower three voices sing Et in terra pax. With excitement, the strings set up a rapid moto perpetuo, over which the choir sings Laudamus te. The movement peaks as a regal march with the choir’s stately intonation of Domine Deus, Rex caelestis and slowly comes full circle as the sun sinks below the horizon with simple final a capella Amen drifting into silence.

The City is based on the Credo text, which Gjeilo calls “the most powerful and assured text in the mass. ‘I believe’ is a strong statement.” The music mirrors both this gravity and the hustle and bustle of urban life with the strings in “a fast, unforgiving, and relentless accompaniment.” While the men solemnly intone the opening Credo the women join the men, streaming powerfully forward and eventually coming to a quiet resting place intoning Qui propter nos homines. This gives way to the grave and jagged motif of the Crucifixus. Et resurrexit introduces the new mood of optimism followed by urgent string tremolos dramatizing the compelling text in augmented note values above the furious motion of the strings.

The final movement, Identity, reprises the opening motif of The Spheres, now sung on Sanctus. Like the calm after a storm, Identity sets the scene for sunlight to burst through the clouds. It does so in the reassuring, tender music of The Ground. Gjeilo comments, “The chorale, beginning at Pleni sunt caeli… is the culmination of the Mass, and it’s called Identity & The Ground because I wanted to convey a sense of having ‘arrived’ at the end of the Mass; to have reached a kind of peace and grounded strength, after the long journey of the Mass, having gone through so many different emotional landscapes.” The Mass ends with a hushed Dona Nobis Pacem; at first only the choir sings, reverentially; then a beseeking solo violin joins in, and finally the whole ensemble, slowly and quietly comes to rest on a widely spaced major chord, as if reaching across the length and breadth of the earth for peace.
Gjeilo says of the Mass: “The music of the Sunrise Mass goes from dark and dreamlike, to more emotional and dramatic, and eventually warm and grounded as a metaphor for human development from child to adult, or as a spiritual journey. It is important to me that there is a positive evolution in artistic expressions, to move everything forward, that it has the capacity to help bring us deeper into ourselves rather than the other way. I really do think that's the main point of art… to express a deeper connection with something sacred; soul, or God, or nature, or whatever we perceive it as, through art. And I always believed that gift should be used to uplift and remind ourselves of who we really are and what's truly important in our lives, whatever that may be.”

- Compiled by Robert Cooper

Ubi Caritas

This remarkable setting of the familiar Latin text starts in unison, evoking plain chant, and gradually unfolds into wider harmonies and a more modern harmonic language.

Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est.
Where there is charity and love,
God is there.

Congregavit nos in unum Christi amor.
Love brings us together in one Christ.

Exsultemus et in ipso jucundemur.
Let us rejoice and be glad in it.

Timeamus et amemus Deum vivum.
Let us revere and love the living God.

Et ex corde diligamus nos sincero.
And from a sincere heart let us love one another

Ubi caritas et amor, Deus ibi est. Amen.
Where there is charity and love,
God is there. Amen.
